On Entering the Sea Nizar Qabbani,1996 A unique collection by the Arab world's most renowned poet In a political age in which the struggle against external and internal oppression has become central in Arabic poetry Nizar Qabbani has succeeded in re-establishing the vitality and perennial force of the erotic in human life Picking up a tradition of Arabic love poetry sixteen centuries old he has enriched it with the experience of a modern man deeply aware of the changing status of women in contemporary times and given the most eloquent poetic expression to the imperative of woman's freedom and her right to assume control over her body and emotions An accomplished master of the erotic standing among the best love poets of the world Qabbani has asserted life and joy in the face of chaos and tragedy paying fervent homage sustained over five decades to woman's grace and loveliness As such he has been able to bring equilibrium and decorum to poetry in crisis reviving faith in the possibility of happiness and emotional fulfillment Yet he is also moved to anger by the forces of evil around him and the opposing poles of exaltation and rage of agony and ecstasy describe his unique experiment A man of his times and of all times he is by far the most popular poet in the Arab world

Nizar Qabbani George Nicolas El-Hage Ph D,2018-12-06 In Nizar Qabbani's own words This book in which I have collected some of my dialogues with the press and excerpts from TV interviews concerning the topic of women is simply an attempt to correct the old picture that has been engraved in people's memory about me hoping to replace it with a more modern image and also more humane After forty years of wandering across the regions of poetry and women I feel that my image in people's minds is still cloudy confused and veiled with colors that are blended and intermingled In spite of what is being said about me that I am the most widely read poet from the Gulf to the Ocean I continue to feel that I am also the saddest poet from the Gulf to the Ocean I still feel that out there there are those who still read me wrongly understand me wrongly and even those who slaughter me wrongly I do understand that choosing women as a primary subject matter for poetry is a difficult choice that even choosing women as a topic of discussion is in itself a taboo and that he who touches a woman's hand is like one who touches a burning coal I also know that getting involved in a relationship with a beautiful woman in my country is like getting involved in a smuggling operation or like robbing a bank

Nizar Qabbani: Journal of an Indifferent Woman

Georges Nicolas EL-Hage, El-Hage Ph. D., Ph. D. (George Nicolas), 2015-03-16 Nizar Qabbani is the most celebrated and popular poet in contemporary Arabic Literature. He remains one of the most prolific and influential Avant guard poets of Modern Arabic Poetry. His writings constitute a School of thought, a movement, a trend that produced a large number of followers across the Arab world who tried to imitate Nizar and adopt the path that he pioneered but none earned the fame and prestige that Qabbani achieved. Nizar started his career writing about love, romance, and romantic and erotic topics. These were fiery subjects and mostly taboo at the time. He was severely criticized by the conservative establishments but this never deterred him. His goal was to expose the injustice imposed on women to openly discuss love and passion without shame and to free the Arab spirit from the years of bondage in the dungeons of past traditions. His poetry later evolved into the political arena and he wrote the most moving and effective political poetry criticizing the then current Arab regimes and exposing their failures, complacency, and ultimate defeat in facing the national responsibility that they were entrusted with. In his poetry, Nizar continued the theme of love poetry that was started by Omru al Qays in Pre-Islamic Arabia and then popularized by the two Umayyad poets, Jamil Bin Mu'ammal and Umar Bin Abi Rabi'a. In his poetry, Nizar combined the elegance, transparency, sexuality, and piety of the three poets and brought poetry to the homes and dining tables of the millions in the Arab world who loved him and admired his poems. He wanted to make poetry like bread, a daily nourishment available to every person who could read Arabic. On the other hand, when Nizar Qabbani wrote his political poetry, he was focused, critical, harsh, punitive, severe, and unforgiving. He was bleeding for his nation and eulogizing its failures and defeats. When Nizar wrote about love, he dipped his pen in Jasmine and rose water. But when he wrote his political satire, he dipped his pen in blood. This book is not about sex and seduction. This book is an existential document written by an abused woman awaiting her execution. She knew that there is No Exit yet she chose to overcome her fate and write. This is a surrealist diary of a frustrated female pushed to her limits by the customs, traditions, and beliefs of a rigid society that treats women as slaves and empowers men to rule over them. This nameless female, a modern Scheherazade, stood face to face against her assassin in her attempt to triumph over death by documenting her story and consequently the story of the millions of women who were sacrificed daily in the bedchamber of Shahrivar. However, the frustration, anger, despair, and dejection of all these women is also evident and is shared by men at the end of the book as the men admit their guilt and sin that has accompanied them since the Age of Ignorance in Pre-Islamic Arabia.
